

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact:

Danville Heritage Festival

Email: info@visitdanvillepa.org

Website: www.visitdanvillepa.org

Discover Local Beauty on Display During the 2025 Danville Heritage Garden Tours

Danville, PA – June 10, 2025: The Danville Heritage Festival Committee is proud to announce the return of one of its most beloved summer traditions: the 2025 Danville Heritage Garden Tours, taking place on Saturday, June 28 from 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM.

This self-guided, free garden tour invites visitors to explore six beautifully cultivated private gardens across the region, including locations in Danville, Catawissa, Millville, and Bloomsburg. Each stop offers a unique perspective on local gardening artistry, from historic-inspired plantings to vibrant native blooms and carefully curated landscapes. Visitors are encouraged to bring their cameras, take their time, and gather ideas for their own green spaces. While the event is free and open to the public, goodwill donation boxes will be placed at each location to support the Danville Heritage Festival and future community programming.

Participating Gardens:

Bob & Marysusan Umbriac – 538 Chamber St., Danville

Chas & Tina Bartholomew – 107 W Market St., Danville

Doug & Cindy Knepp – 12 Adam Drive, Catawissa

William & Mary Vegh – 503 Hillside Rd., Danville

Don & Diane Rider – 505 Jerseytown Rd., Millville

Martha Kanaskie – 432 Eysersgrove Rd., Bloomsburg

Visitors can find full descriptions of each garden, along with a printable tour map and turn-by-turn directions, by visiting www.visitdanvillepa.org/events or scanning the QR code found on promotional materials throughout the region.

“The Garden Tours are a wonderful way to celebrate the region’s natural beauty and the incredible work of local gardeners,” said Bob Umbriac, longtime organizer of the garden tours. “It’s a peaceful, inspiring day that connects neighbors and nature alike.” Whether you’re an avid gardener or just looking for a scenic day out, the 2025 Danville Heritage Garden Tours promise an unforgettable experience rooted in beauty, community, and creativity.