Liz Masich of Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices Hodrick Realty Earns Real Estate's Premier New Home Sales Certification – Certified New Home Specialist™ and Residential Construction Certified™

DANVILLE, PA- Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices Hodrick Realty is proud to announce that Liz Masich has completed the real estate industry's most comprehensive new home and residential construction courses to earn her national certification as a Certified New Home Specialist™ and a Residential Construction Certified™ professional. With these certifications, she joins a group dedicated to providing the highest level of professionalism and service to builders and new home buyers.

"These courses are recognized as two of the very best ever offered in real estate," explains Liz. "The training covered architectural design and planning, blueprint reading, topography, building site design, evaluating quality construction, materials, methods, construction terminology and scheduling. We also studied successful buyer/builder relations, all aspects of customer service and the use of various organizational tools and systems. This provides me with the expertise, strategies and tools to more professionally assist anyone interested in a brand new or existing home."

"Liz has invested the time to deeply understand how homes are built, not just how they are sold. That knowledge directly benefits her clients, giving them a clearer view of quality, value, and long-term performance," says Kevin Hodrick, broker and owner of Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices Hodrick Realty. "We are proud to have her as part of our Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices Hodrick Realty team."

Completion of the Certified New Home Specialist™ and Residential Construction Certified™ training involves a total of over 32 hours of specialized course work and successful completion of the CNHS and RCC certification tests. The courses were created by trainer, author and consultant Dennis Walsh, who is recognized internationally as a leading authority in all aspects of residential construction, new home sales and marketing.

Liz Masich has been active in real estate sales for 13 years and works in Columbia, Lower Luzerne, Montour, Northumberland, Snyder and Union Counties.
