

WIRED FOR GOOD

Every year, good technology gets retired simply because a business upgraded. We think that's a missed opportunity. InnoTek Gives and The Good Neighbor Project are teaming up to collect that hardware, wipe it clean, and get it into the hands of people in our community who need it most – through organizations like yours.

There are a few ways to get involved...

We're looking for trusted local organizations who are already serving neighbors in need and want a technology partner behind them. You can help collect, help distribute, or both – whatever fits your capacity. We handle the rest.

No cost, no red tape. Just good work, accomplished together.

COLLECT

We accept working laptops, tablets, and computers. Essentially, any usable hardware that still has life left in it.

PREPARE

Every device goes through InnoTek's certified data destruction process. Clean, safe, and ready to use.

DISTRIBUTE

You know our community needs best. We get you the devices, you help us put them in the right hands.

If your organization serves people who need basic technology access, we want to hear from you. This is a partnership, not a transaction, and we're ready to get started.
